More than 40 high school students attended SCTD’s recent Scholarship Fair hoping to take home $60,000 in available scholarships to help pay for college. Students competed in ten different events, Freehand Art, Computer Art, Web Design/Multimedia, Interior Design, Networking, Architectural and Mechanical CADD, Board Drafting, Electronics and HVAC-R. First place winners received scholarships of $3,000, second place winners took home $2,000 in scholarships, and third place winners walked away with $1,000.

Wealth of information
At the Fair, students had several opportunities to win great merchandise during door prize drawings. They were also able to learn about employment opportunities available from UPS through the Earn and Learn program presentation. Earn and Learn pays up to $3,000 yearly for tuition and books upon successful completion of classes. UPS also offers a salary of $8.50 to $9 an hour after 90 days, plus benefits such as insurance, paid vacation and holidays.

SCTD had something for parents as well. While students worked on their competitive projects, parents participated in a financial aid presentation, and learned how to complete a Financial Aid Application.

Winners represented 21 high schools; Manual, Doss, Pleasure Ridge Park, Jeffersonsontown, Moore, Waggener, Trinity, Breckenridge County, LaRue County, Nelson County, Hart County, Meade County, Marion County, Barren County, and Heath high schools in Kentucky; and Crothersville, Scott County, Jennings County, Pike Central, and Jeffersonville high schools in Indiana.

The next major scholarship event for incoming students will be the Scholarship Essay contest later this spring. Contact an Admissions Officer at the Sullivan College of Technology and Design for more details!
