Student housing at Gardiner Point is great

If you want a college experience that includes living on campus, check out Gardiner Point Residence Hall. The multi-million-dollar Residence Hall is conveniently located, just a short walk or a shorter van ride from the Sullivan College of Technology and Design campus.

Offering many amenities, including a full service dining facility which is open seven days a week, an on-site convenience store, a student lounge, various study areas, wireless internet, a heated outdoor pool, a recreation area, a fitness center, a video game room, and even a mini-movie theater, Gardiner Point has quickly changed student perceptions of what student housing can be.

"I love housing! . . . It helps keep your emphasis on your school while making lifelong connections with new people. . . those are the things I am going to look back and remember. . . I also like the constant access to food, even though that may be my downfall. . . A 24 hour gym is located downstairs so . . . I can waddle my way down there and try to work it off . . ." - Sheilia Chavers

Sheilia Chavers is pursuing her associate degree in Interior Design.

We’ve got SKILLS

SkillsUSA is an international organization for secondary and postsecondary career and technical students. The organization focuses on growing students as leaders, as professionals in their fields and as civic-minded adults. Students may participate in leadership and technical skills competitions at the regional, state, national and international levels. Go to www.SkillsUSA.org for further information.

SCTD SkillsUSA WINNERS:

A MOBILE CLASSROOM

SCTD receives national recognition

“Sullivan College of Technology and Design has a long history of service-learning and believes strongly in preparing our graduates to be active leaders and participants in an ever-changing world,” said Chris Ernst, Executive Director. “We’re honored to receive this prestigious award – and owe much of it to the students themselves. They’re the energy driving our commitment and they’re the ones who make it all happen.”

Sullivan College of Technology and Design (SCTD) has been named to the 2013 President’s Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll by the Corporation for National and Community Service. The Honor Roll recognizes higher education institutions that reflect the values of exemplary community service and achieve meaningful outcomes in their communities. SCTD’s selection to the Honor Roll is recognition from the highest levels of the federal government of our commitment to service and civic engagement on our campus and in our nation.
