Fashion Department Adds Experience to Faculty

Fashion Merchandising students at Spencerian have a treat in store beginning with the January quarter. The Fashion Merchandising faculty will be diversified as will the students' schedules.

New teachers for the fashion classes include Mrs. Lois Boyles, Mr. Bill Deans, and Ann Zaepfel.

The students' schedules for next quarter include Salesmanship, General Merchandising and Fashion Accessories, Fashion Coordination and Fashion Show Production.

Mrs. Lois Boyles will be teaching Fashion Coordination and Fashion Show Production. Her background includes years of work in modeling and personal development work. She attended William Jewell College and is a graduate of Patricia Stevens Modeling Agency in Kansas City, Missouri. She has taught modeling and worked in fashion areas.

Mr. Bill Deans is a graduate of Mars Hill College in North Carolina and has taught high school and worked in sales and sales management for six years. Mr. Deans completed a Retail Management training program at the Belk-Henderson Department Stores in North Carolina and worked in all areas of retail sales. He is currently a graduate student at the Southern Seminary.

Before entering the Southern Seminary, Mr. Deans was an executive with a life insurance firm in North Carolina. He worked his way into a management position after several years experience in sales. Just before he entered the seminary he was offered a Vice-Presidential position.

NEW QUARTER JANUARY 2

The winter quarter at Spencerian will begin on January 2, 1974. All new students will report for registration during the week following Christmas. Old students will be expected to make book purchases before January 2.

Psychology Class Tours Haunted House

by John Zimmerman

Mrs. Bronner's fourth period Psychology class met at the WAKY Haunted House. On this warm Tuesday night, October 23, approximately ten students and Mrs. Bronner stood in line for twenty minutes, while the tension mounted.

Once inside, we winded through narrow corridors and up long winding stairways, dodging vampires and other assorted spooks. We literally carried Phyllis Patrick, who had a "thing" about lying on the floor screaming whenever she felt it was necessary. All in all it was a pleasant and enlightening experience.

Medical Graduates Honored At Dinner And Pinning Ceremony

The Spencerian College Medical Association pinning ceremony was held November 30 honoring December graduates who entered medical internships on December 3.

Preceding the ceremony, held at the Marriott Inn in Clarksville, Indiana, the medicaals along with their instructors, Mrs. Alberta Florence and Mr. Pat Bronner, held a private dinner. Following the dinner, the medical pinning ceremony took place.

Typing instructor, Gloria Finger, sang at the ceremony and was accompanied by her husband on the piano. The guest speaker at the affair was Mrs. Sharon Vance of the Medical Careers in Kentucky Association. Mrs. Vance spoke to the students on the "Professional Medical Assistants Association and on what being a Medical Assistant had meant to her."

Graduate In The Past

Have you ever wondered what Spencerian was like fifty years ago? Well, our former graduate can tell you. Sister Rita remembers it when it was on Guthrie Street and had only three rooms; a room for shorthand, bookkeeping, and typing.

Sister Rita went to Spencerian in 1919. At that time each student worked at his own speed. When you had completed your work, you graduated. It took Sister Rita only six months to complete her course.

Her list of subjects included Commercial Law, Bookkeeping, and Office Practice. This was her entire course.

Upon completion of the course, Sister Rita was sent to work for a plumber as a bookkeeping assistant. One year later, in 1920, she entered the convent. She furthered her education at Ursuline College and taught in Louisville schools for many years.

Four years ago Sister Rita retired, and is now in charge of the nursery at St. Joseph Orphan Society.

Graduate of the Issue

The graduate of the issue is Suzanne Hacker, a 1972 graduate of Stuart High School in Louisville.

Suzanne entered Spencerian in September, 1972, and studied in the Computer Programming Course.

While in the program, she maintained a 3.78 grade point average and upon graduation was placed in a position as a Computer Programmer with Capital Holding Corporation in the Commonwealth Building.

In speaking of Suzanne, Director of Job Placement, Harold Stice, said, "Suzanne exemplified great potential as a programmer. She was a student who took her work seriously but was never so serious that she couldn't smile easily and offer her help to other students."
