Wow! Spencerian keeps getting better. New degrees, great student learning venue and now a super Residence Hall

Spencerian College housing students can look forward to a fantastic new residence hall thanks to The Sullivan University System’s recent acquisition. On October 1, The Sullivan University System took possession of a beautiful 138,000 square foot hotel property. Located on more than five acres, the property is on I-264 at Newburg Road.

This unique modern hotel property, called Gardiner Point Residence Hall, has had $4.5 million dollars of recent renovations and new furniture added in all the residence rooms. It overlooks a large meadow with a beautiful small lake.

The former owners approached The Sullivan University System to see if the System would want to acquire the property, which had been a Holiday Inn for several years. After much negotiation, the System became the new owner of this property which, if built from the ground up, would cost more than $20 million dollars to duplicate today.

Wonderful student opportunity

Just imagine, two hotel-quality double beds in every room, with two study desks and ample storage and closets plus separate sink and vanity with both tub and shower in each student living area. The property has a beautiful in-ground swimming pool and deck area for sun bathing, and a very large patio area perfect for outside relaxation overlooking the lake.

And that’s not all!

Some of the additional amenities include a 40-camera security system across the property, a complete sprinkler system in each room, plus a new student convenience store right on the property will provide all the support items needed by residences from drug store and snack food items to hundreds of small items. Students will enjoy an expanded workout facility with multiple exercise equipment, a new on-site laundry, a large computer lab, private study area, an expanded 2,400 square foot dining room and new kitchen to provide meals seven days a week. Several resident apartments for live-in counselors and additional student support will make Gardiner Point Residence Hall a wonderful college living experience.

Dr. A.R. Sullivan, who spear-headed this acquisition shared, “This once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to acquire this beautiful residence housing facility for our students was one we could not pass up. For the first time, the majority of our students wanting reasonably priced housing while attending our System’s Colleges: Spencerian College, Sullivan University, and the Sullivan College of Technology and Design, will have a wonderfully unique residence experience.”

Spencerian College offers nursing students a great new way to learn

Spencerian College has invested in the purchase of “Simulation Man” as a valuable teaching tool for students in the Licensed Practical Nursing and Associate Degree Nursing programs. Sim Man is a 21st century nurseman/who can be computer programmed to act like a real patient. A student can walk up to him and ask “How are you feeling today, Mr. Sim?” Sim Man can be programmed to respond as the instructor wishes: “My chest hurts” or “I’m tired” or “I don’t feel good.” Sim Man can cough, sneeze, cry, and replicate many more real life scenarios.

Spencerian College housing students can look forward to a fantastic new residence hall thanks to The Sullivan University System’s recent acquisition. On October 1, The Sullivan University System took possession of a beautiful 138,000 square foot hotel property. Located on more than five acres, the property is on I-264 at Newburg Road.

This unique modern hotel property, called Gardiner Point Residence Hall, has had $4.5 million dollars of recent renovations and new furniture added in all the residence rooms. It overlooks a large meadow with a beautiful small lake.

The former owners approached The Sullivan University System to see if the System would want to acquire the property, which had been a Holiday Inn for several years. After much negotiation, the System became the new owner of this property which, if built from the ground up, would cost more than $20 million dollars to duplicate today.

Wonderful student opportunity

Just imagine, two hotel-quality double beds in every room, with two study desks and ample storage and closets plus separate sink and vanity with both tub and shower in each student living area. The property has a beautiful in-ground swimming pool and deck area for sun bathing, and a very large patio area perfect for outside relaxation overlooking the lake.

And that’s not all!

Some of the additional amenities include a 40-camera security system across the property, a complete sprinkler system in each room, plus a new student convenience store right on the property will provide all the support items needed by residences from drug store and snack food items to hundreds of small items. Students will enjoy an expanded workout facility with multiple exercise equipment, a new on-site laundry, a large computer lab, private study area, an expanded 2,400 square foot dining room and new kitchen to provide meals seven days a week. Several resident apartments for live-in counselors and additional student support will make Gardiner Point Residence Hall a wonderful college living experience.

Dr. A.R. Sullivan, who spear-headed this acquisition shared, “This once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to acquire this beautiful residence housing facility for our students was one we could not pass up. For the first time, the majority of our students wanting reasonably priced housing while attending our System’s Colleges: Spencerian College, Sullivan University, and the Sullivan College of Technology and Design, will have a wonderfully unique residence experience.”

Spencerian College offers nursing students a great new way to learn

Spencerian College has invested in the purchase of “Simulation Man” as a valuable teaching tool for students in the Licensed Practical Nursing and Associate Degree Nursing programs. Sim Man is a 21st century nurseman who can be computer programmed to act like a real patient. A student can walk up to him and ask “How are you feeling today, Mr. Sim?” Sim Man can be programmed to respond as the instructor wishes: “My chest hurts” or “I’m tired” or “I don’t feel good.” Sim Man can cough, sneeze, cry, and replicate many more real life scenarios.

Spencerian College has invested in the purchase of “Simulation Man” as a valuable teaching tool for students in the Licensed Practical Nursing and Associate Degree Nursing programs. Sim Man is a 21st century nurseman who can be computer programmed to act like a real patient. A student can walk up to him and ask “How are you feeling today, Mr. Sim?” Sim Man can be programmed to respond as the instructor wishes: “My chest hurts” or “I’m tired” or “I don’t feel good.” Sim Man can cough, sneeze, cry, and replicate many more real life scenarios.

Spencerian College has invested in the purchase of “Simulation Man” as a valuable teaching tool for students in the Licensed Practical Nursing and Associate Degree Nursing programs. Sim Man is a 21st century nurseman who can be computer programmed to act like a real patient. A student can walk up to him and ask “How are you feeling today, Mr. Sim?” Sim Man can be programmed to respond as the instructor wishes: “My chest hurts” or “I’m tired” or “I don’t feel good.” Sim Man can cough, sneeze, cry, and replicate many more real life scenarios.