You can change your life through education!

There are plenty of fun activities for Spencerian students to enjoy.

It's Carnival Time!
Games of chance, and lots of fun. Many clubs sold tasty treats.

The Belle of Louisville Cruise
Everyone on the historic paddlewheel boat had a great time in spite of the rain and unseasonably cold weather.

New student organization is formed
Spencerian College has a new organization on campus. The American Medical Technologists Student Society (SCAMTSS) met formally for the first time during the Summer 2009 quarter. The Society’s goal is to foster a sense of community among the students enrolled in the Clinical Assistant, Medical Administrative Assistant, Clinical Laboratory Assistant or Phlebotomy programs. Only these programs are included because graduates are certified by the American Technologists Society (AMT). The purpose of this organization is to help facilitate a strong sense of community among the relevant allied health profession students and faculty members at Spencerian College. The Society members are students supporting each other, the College and the community and have fun in doing so! Additionally, student members enjoy opportunities for financial aid, career development and contact with professionals in their chosen field(s).

Spencerian College was their best choice!
Spencerian welcomes new students every January, March June and September. Here are some new faces on campus.

Pomp and circumstance plays for Spencerian graduates
At the Spring 2009 commencement, Spencerian proudly honored its graduates at the formal ceremony held at the Frankfort Convention Center in Frankfort, Kentucky. The Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, Daniel Mongiardo, gave an inspiring commencement speech to graduates, family and friends. Donning the traditional Spencerian blue cap and gowns, graduates anxiously waited for their names to be called while family members poised themselves to take pictures of the big moment.
