JAIL Bait

Student Affairs hosted its first annual Jail Bait event to raise money to purchase food for the homeless. Sullivan students purchased “warrants” for a quarter to have their fellow classmates, instructors, and staff members arrested. Once arrested, the “inmates” would then have to post bail to get out of jail. This was a very successful event for a great cause!

Above, Beth Timoney served time because she resisted arrest!

Instructor Dave Donathan was not pleased when he had to be tied down for his mug shot!

Student Ella Kelly looked cool and calm even if she was gingerly holding her arrest warrant.

Hoping for leniency by looking pathetic didn’t help student Tricia Hatton earn an early release from jail.
