Sullivan grad enjoys successful career!

“Working for such a prestigious practice as Lexington Cardiology Consultants is as rewarding as it is challenging,” said Carol Walker, class of 2000. “I work as a CMA (Certified Medical Assistant) in a very fast-paced environment, assisting many physicians... sometimes I think that I smell rubber burning from the soles of my shoes! I have learned so much in such a short period of time...” she continued.

Graduate Employment Services department was invaluable!

“With so many choices, it wasn’t easy deciding what area and type of medical practice I wanted,” Carol said, “but thanks to Sullivan University’s career placement program, a match was made. My courses and hands-on opportunity in the labs and externship assignments have been invaluable to me in my position. As a matter of fact, my externship was at Cardiology Consultants which led me directly to my full-time job.”

Employer delighted!

Employer, Dr. Gery Tomassoni, of Cardiology Consultants gives Carol rave reviews. “Carol was very well prepared for her position with us and her background made for an easy transition into our busy office. She is able to perform all of the day-to-day operations including taking vital signs and blood work. Carol also builds relationships with the patients and they appreciate her. We also have outreach clinics in rural areas of Kentucky where Carol wears many hats; her upbeat attitude is always fun to be around.”

Chose Sullivan for many reasons

Carol said “I chose Sullivan because as a single mother of two, Sullivan’s flexible schedule, numerous opportunities for tutoring, and the fact that I could take medical-related classes right away kept my brain interested and my grades high. Sullivan University’s staff provided me with one-on-one attention into making my career goals a reality, and gave me an enormous amount of motivation and support during my times of need as a student.”

“What a challenging road it has been, but I made it! I send big thanks to all of my mentors at Sullivan University... they encouraged me to ‘go for it’ and I did. Look at me now!”

[Signature] Carol Walker