Many adults and high school students who hear about Sullivan University want to attend, but feel that they cannot make it at a university. They may have had a bad experience in high school or have been out of school for many years. Some have told Sullivan’s Admissions Office that they just don’t have the time to invest or the money to spend on a degree program. They just want to prepare for a good job quickly.

In response to this need, Sullivan, which began 45 years ago as a one-year business school, is expanding its one-year-or-less career programs and putting them all in a separate division. Now, students who are not sure a degree program is within their reach can “test the waters” at Sullivan and quickly prepare to enter the job market with highly marketable skills and . . . receive full college credit at the same time.

Simply explained, Sullivan’s “Stair Step” approach to education enables students to enroll in a short Certificate or Diploma program – graduate in a year or less – and accept employment. If graduates want to complete an Associate or Bachelor’s degree after earning their diploma or certificate, then convenient day/evening/weekend/or online courses are available. Graduates will receive full college credit for the certificate or diploma completed. It’s that simple!

In all cases, you’ll be a Sullivan University graduate in less than a year with access to Sullivan’s Nationwide Graduate Employment Services to help you locate that important first position - and help you, fee-free, for the rest of your working career.

And, as a Sullivan graduate, you will have Lifetime Free Review Privileges to review or refresh any course you have completed. Amazing and priceless benefits!

Sullivan wins top honors at prestigious local event

Congratulations to the faculty and students of Sullivan’s National Center for Hospitality Studies on a successful weekend of promotion, public relations and education. Culinarians participated in both the Cast Iron Chef Competition and the “Heard it through the Grapevine” event held at the Crawne Plaza’s Campbell House Inn and sponsored by radio station WUKY.

Friday night’s “Cast Iron Chef” Competition was a great success thanks to the leadership of Chef Instructor John Foster, CSC, and his students who aided in the preparation and plating of menus created by the two competing celebrity chefs: Chef Jonathan Lundy of Jonathan’s at Gratz Park and Chef Jim Gerhardt of Limestone Restaurant in Louisville. The University’s presence at the event was enhanced by the panel of judges, which included, Anita Wetherford (Sullivan weekend culinary student) and two Sullivan Chef Instructors: Katie Payne, CSC, and Rob Beighley, CEC, from the University’s main campus in Louisville. Saturday evening’s “Heard it Through the Grapevine” featured Chef Instructor Steve Atkins, CSC, with Sullivan day and weekend culinary students’ luscious display of Mocha Chocolate Cheesecake prepared by Chef Instructor Bill Hallman, CEC, and his classes, and Roma Tomato & Lobster Salsa over House-Made Double Thick Potato Chips. Chef Instructor Atkins stated, “This was a great educational opportunity for students to learn about the organization involved in staging an event and a fantastic way for the public and culinary world to observe the quality of Sullivan’s culinary students.”

If you want to enroll in one of these short programs or know of someone who needs to change their life for the better quickly, contact Director of Admissions, Sue Michael today at 859-276-4357 or toll free at 800-467-6281 and be in a new career in less than a year!
