Scholarship Updates

Kentucky Paralegal Association

The Kentucky Paralegal Association has announced that Jaime Green is the recipient of its 2010 $1,000 scholarship which will be officially presented to her at the annual KPA conference to be held in Lexington this November. The scholarship is available to all Kentucky paralegal students who had completed at least 12 credit hours of paralegal courses with a 3.5 grade point average while maintaining a 3.25 cumulative GPA. Applicants were also judged on their essay about why they chose to become a paralegal and a legal writing sample. Jaime, who will graduate in December, has been awarded the scholarship and a paralegal and a legal writing sample. Jaime, who will graduate in December, will be given a scholarship to attend the 2011 KPA conference.

Fayette County Bar Association

Jaime, who will graduate in December, has been awarded a scholarship to attend the 2011 KPA conference.

Talbots Scholarship

Talbots Scholarship goal is to empower women to attend college. Talbots Women’s Scholarship. The Talbots Scholarship is a $5,000 award to a female student who is interested in a business or entrepreneurship degree. Applicants must be enrolled in a business or entrepreneurship program at a college or university.

Sullivan University hosts annual Entrepreneur Leadership Institute

Twenty-four Fayette County High School juniors and seniors participated in a week-long, agenda packed event in June on the campus of Sullivan University. Students had the opportunity to meet successful local entrepreneurs and leadership business people who shared their leadership skills and discussed what it takes to succeed. Students learned business planning basics, teambuilding, etiquette skills and participated in a week-long agenda packed event along with visits to area business sites.

As part of a team project, students were divided into complimentary groups to develop a business plan or a new business. Student groups presented their idea, marketing and business plan to a panel of business judges who determined winners based on creativity, financial feasibility and the most comprehensive plans.

This is the eighth year Sullivan University has partnered with the Lexington Partnership for Workforce Development on this student program. Students and their invited guests attended an awards and recognition ceremony on Friday evening hosted at Sullivan.

Go Red Program

Sullivan University recently held their own “Go Red” Day to focus on heart health. A nurse from Lexington’s St. Joseph Hospital presented an in-depth program about heart disease. Students were treated to a heart-healthy buffet of fresh fruits, had their blood pressure taken—it was a little high, but she said jokingly “I just finished a test!”

First alumni reunion was a blast!

This spring, Sullivan University hosted the first Alumni Reunion Weekend for the Lexington Campus. All alumni were invited to share in the festivities on campus, at Keeneland and at the Crown Plaza Campbell House.

Wonderful fun-filled weekend! The weekend began with a Welcome Reception on campus and Sullivan’s Culinary arts department created a dizzyingly delicious spread! Recent, as well as older graduates, had a lovely evening getting to know each other and re-connecting with fellow alumni, faculty and staff.

Saturday began with a Kentucky Proud Breakfast on campus and was very well-received— a fantastic breakfast buffet that included an orange juice station were the highlights of the morning. Alumni reported being very pleased with the ability to reconnect with old friends. In the afternoon, alumni were free to explore Lexington landmarks. Many went as groups to visit Talon Winery, as well as the Mary Todd Lincoln House. Saturday evening was the pinnacle of the weekend. Guests were treated to a wonderful steak and onion dinner at the Crowne Plaza Sullivan University over paralegal and a legal writing sample.

Be sure to visit alumni.sullivan.edu to sign in and make sure that you are invited to future reunions!
