SULLIVAN UNIVERSITY
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY
News from the 2013 Spring & Summer Quarters
Vol. 2, 2013

Record-setting employer turnout at Career Fair

Sarah Smith and Aaron Wade chat with George Huffman, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms (Louisville Division). “Another fine job . . . I look forward to coming back next year,” said Mr. Huffman.

Sullivan University-Lexington recently hosted a Career Fair and it was a record-setting success! This event had the largest turnout of employers ever; there were countless career opportunities available. More than 40 employers with positions from the entry level to the professional level were present to meet with students and graduates and to discuss their recruiting process.

“Priscilla Owens is a joy to have in class. She has been a foster parent, and still visits the kids she took care of. If you ask Priscilla to do something for you as a group, she does ‘perfect’ work and it is always on time or ahead of time. She is always polite, friendly and has a big smile for everyone,” Priscilla’s Professor

Dr. Carol Tinning, Assistant Professor of Legal Studies

Everyone loves a little recognition! Sullivan University’s Lexington campus initiated two important recognition programs this year.

The Sullivan Star Award recognizes faculty and staff for exceptional service. The monthly award recipient receives a certificate and a reserved, prime parking spot for the month.

The Sullivan Spirit Award recognizes students who have made a difference for others in the community. The monthly award recipient receives public recognition in the classroom, a certificate, and their choice of a gift from a group selected just for them. One of the most popular selections is a free parking permit for the next quarter.

Left to right, Linda Wickstrom, Class of 2010, Nathan Morgan, Class of 2013, Daniel Smith, Class of 2010, and Donna Rash, Class of 2012.

They have Spirit!

SULLIVAN UNIVERSITY
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY
News from the 2013 Spring & Summer Quarters
Vol. 2, 2013

Record-setting employer turnout at Career Fair

Sarah Smith and Aaron Wade chat with George Huffman, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms (Louisville Division). “Another fine job . . . I look forward to coming back next year,” said Mr. Huffman.

Sullivan University-Lexington recently hosted a Career Fair and it was a record-setting success! This event had the largest turnout of employers ever; there were countless career opportunities available. More than 40 employers with positions from the entry level to the professional level were present to meet with students and graduates and to discuss their recruiting process.

“Priscilla Owens is a joy to have in class. She has been a foster parent, and still visits the kids she took care of. If you ask Priscilla to do something for you as a group, she does ‘perfect’ work and it is always on time or ahead of time. She is always polite, friendly and has a big smile for everyone,” Priscilla’s Professor

Dr. Carol Tinning, Assistant Professor of Legal Studies

Everyone loves a little recognition! Sullivan University’s Lexington campus initiated two important recognition programs this year.

The Sullivan Star Award recognizes faculty and staff for exceptional service. The monthly award recipient receives a certificate and a reserved, prime parking spot for the month.

The Sullivan Spirit Award recognizes students who have made a difference for others in the community. The monthly award recipient receives public recognition in the classroom, a certificate, and their choice of a gift from a group selected just for them. One of the most popular selections is a free parking permit for the next quarter.

Left to right, Linda Wickstrom, Class of 2010, Nathan Morgan, Class of 2013, Daniel Smith, Class of 2010, and Donna Rash, Class of 2012.

They have Spirit!

SULLIVAN UNIVERSITY
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY
News from the 2013 Spring & Summer Quarters
Vol. 2, 2013

Record-setting employer turnout at Career Fair

Sarah Smith and Aaron Wade chat with George Huffman, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms (Louisville Division). “Another fine job . . . I look forward to coming back next year,” said Mr. Huffman.

Sullivan University-Lexington recently hosted a Career Fair and it was a record-setting success! This event had the largest turnout of employers ever; there were countless career opportunities available. More than 40 employers with positions from the entry level to the professional level were present to meet with students and graduates and to discuss their recruiting process.

“Priscilla Owens is a joy to have in class. She has been a foster parent, and still visits the kids she took care of. If you ask Priscilla to do something for you as a group, she does ‘perfect’ work and it is always on time or ahead of time. She is always polite, friendly and has a big smile for everyone,” Priscilla’s Professor

Dr. Carol Tinning, Assistant Professor of Legal Studies

Everyone loves a little recognition! Sullivan University’s Lexington campus initiated two important recognition programs this year.

The Sullivan Star Award recognizes faculty and staff for exceptional service. The monthly award recipient receives a certificate and a reserved, prime parking spot for the month.

The Sullivan Spirit Award recognizes students who have made a difference for others in the community. The monthly award recipient receives public recognition in the classroom, a certificate, and their choice of a gift from a group selected just for them. One of the most popular selections is a free parking permit for the next quarter.

Left to right, Linda Wickstrom, Class of 2010, Nathan Morgan, Class of 2013, Daniel Smith, Class of 2010, and Donna Rash, Class of 2012.

They have Spirit!

SULLIVAN UNIVERSITY
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY
News from the 2013 Spring & Summer Quarters
Vol. 2, 2013

Record-setting employer turnout at Career Fair

Sarah Smith and Aaron Wade chat with George Huffman, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms (Louisville Division). “Another fine job . . . I look forward to coming back next year,” said Mr. Huffman.

Sullivan University-Lexington recently hosted a Career Fair and it was a record-setting success! This event had the largest turnout of employers ever; there were countless career opportunities available. More than 40 employers with positions from the entry level to the professional level were present to meet with students and graduates and to discuss their recruiting process.

“Priscilla Owens is a joy to have in class. She has been a foster parent, and still visits the kids she took care of. If you ask Priscilla to do something for you as a group, she does ‘perfect’ work and it is always on time or ahead of time. She is always polite, friendly and has a big smile for everyone,” Priscilla’s Professor

Dr. Carol Tinning, Assistant Professor of Legal Studies

Everyone loves a little recognition! Sullivan University’s Lexington campus initiated two important recognition programs this year.

The Sullivan Star Award recognizes faculty and staff for exceptional service. The monthly award recipient receives a certificate and a reserved, prime parking spot for the month.

The Sullivan Spirit Award recognizes students who have made a difference for others in the community. The monthly award recipient receives public recognition in the classroom, a certificate, and their choice of a gift from a group selected just for them. One of the most popular selections is a free parking permit for the next quarter.

Left to right, Linda Wickstrom, Class of 2010, Nathan Morgan, Class of 2013, Daniel Smith, Class of 2010, and Donna Rash, Class of 2012.

They have Spirit!

SULLIVAN UNIVERSITY
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY
News from the 2013 Spring & Summer Quarters
Vol. 2, 2013

Record-setting employer turnout at Career Fair

Sarah Smith and Aaron Wade chat with George Huffman, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms (Louisville Division). “Another fine job . . . I look forward to coming back next year,” said Mr. Huffman.

Sullivan University-Lexington recently hosted a Career Fair and it was a record-setting success! This event had the largest turnout of employers ever; there were countless career opportunities available. More than 40 employers with positions from the entry level to the professional level were present to meet with students and graduates and to discuss their recruiting process.

“Priscilla Owens is a joy to have in class. She has been a foster parent, and still visits the kids she took care of. If you ask Priscilla to do something for you as a group, she does ‘perfect’ work and it is always on time or ahead of time. She is always polite, friendly and has a big smile for everyone,” Priscilla’s Professor

Dr. Carol Tinning, Assistant Professor of Legal Studies

Everyone loves a little recognition! Sullivan University’s Lexington campus initiated two important recognition programs this year.

The Sullivan Star Award recognizes faculty and staff for exceptional service. The monthly award recipient receives a certificate and a reserved, prime parking spot for the month.

The Sullivan Spirit Award recognizes students who have made a difference for others in the community. The monthly award recipient receives public recognition in the classroom, a certificate, and their choice of a gift from a group selected just for them. One of the most popular selections is a free parking permit for the next quarter.

Left to right, Linda Wickstrom, Class of 2010, Nathan Morgan, Class of 2013, Daniel Smith, Class of 2010, and Donna Rash, Class of 2012.